

“Paris - Hier et Aujourd’hui”

La mer, Charles Trenet

Ma mome, ma petite gosse, Marguerite Monnot / Henri Contet

C’est si bon, Henri Betti

Fils de, Jacques Brel

Ne me quitte pas, Jacques Brel

La goulante du pauvre Jean, Marguerite Monnot

Emporté par la foule, Michel Rivgauche

La bohème, Charles Aznavour

L’accordéoniste, Michel Emer

Non, je ne regrette rien, Charles Dumont / Michel Vaucaire

Les feuilles mortes, Jacques Prevert / Joseph Kosma

Hymne à l’amour, Edith Piaf & Marguerite Monnot

Milord, Marguerite Monnot / Georges Moustaki

INTERMISSION

Les Champs Elysées, Pierre Delanoé

Tout passera, Hélène Attia

Mademoiselle chante le blues, Patricia Kaas

La dame de Haute-Savoie, Francis Cabrel

Petite Marie, Francis Cabrel

C’est la fête, Michel Fugain

Le beau roman, Michel Fugain

Les yeux doux, Liane Foly / Philippe Viennet / André Manoukian

Pas gaie la pagaille, Maurane

Le cinéma, Claude Nougaro

Les moulins de mon coeur, Eddy Marnay / Michel Legrand

Bidonville, Claude Nougaro

L’important c’est la rose, Louis Amade / Gilbert Becaud

La vie en rose, Louis Gugliemi / Edith Piaf

Hélène Attia, vocals & guitar

David Biaoni, accordion

Ross Gualco, keyboards

Rich Girard, upright bass

Hélène Attia

French singer/songwriter/guitarist Hélène Attia takes us on a musical journey of French music through time, from the classic songs of Edith Piaf, Jacques Brel, Yves Montand, Charles Aznavour and Charles Trenet to the contemporary songs of such current popular French artists as Maurane, Claude Nougaro, Francis Cabrel, Liane Foly, and Michel Fugain. Hélène will also perform some of her original French compositions from her latest CD release, "The Eyes of Love." She will be accompanied by David Baioni (accordion), Ross Gualco (keyboards), and Rich Girard (bass).

Highly acclaimed in the San Francisco Bay Area, Hélène is well known for promoting French culture in concert throughout the U.S., including several national tours for the L'Alliance Française. She has also performed in France, where she presented an original French song for the European song Festival, L'Eurovision.

To book Hélène Attia for concert or private engagements, call (510) 525-7507. Visit: www.heleneattia.com.

For more information on this event series, contact:

Mechanics' Institute

57 Post Street

San Francisco, CA

Information & Reservations: (415) 393-0100

www.milibrary.org

Author Events, Salons & CinemaLit Film Series

"Paris - Hier et Aujourd'hui"

7th Annual Bastille Day Celebration

Mechanics' Institute

July 14, 2007

Co-sponsored by Paris Through Ex-patriate Eyes

7:30 pm Paris Bistro

8:00 pm Café Concert

featuring

Hélène Attia & Ensemble

hosted by

M. Terrance Gelenter

